Bulletin #47
May 2005

Keeping you informed on SBA Form 1502 Reporting

General Notice:

The prime rate has been increased to 6.00%. This change affects variable rate SBA 7(a) loans tied to the prime rate. For loans that adjust on the first day of the month, interest must be calculated as of June 1, 2005 using 6.00% as the base rate. For loans that adjust on the first day of the calendar quarter, interest must be calculated as of July 1, 2005 using 6.00% as the base rate. For variable rate loans that adjust on a day other than the first day of the month or calendar quarter, the new prime rate of 6.00% is effective on the change date occurring on or after May 3, 2005.

NOTE: If a new prime rate takes affect on or before the adjustment date, the new prime rate should be used.

Specific Advice:

To better assist you with reporting the rate change, an example is provided. In this case, the borrower made a payment on June 16th and the interest period spanned the loan's rate change date on June 1st. The payment is reported as two lines on the 1502 for the month ending June 30, 2005.
